RECENT BRIDE HONORED

Mrs. C. B. Brite, who was Miss Joycelyn Mumme before her marriage about two weeks ago, was complimented with a miscellaneous show-pliment at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon, June 20, at the Vandenberg School. Hostesses were Mrs. Jno. G. Brucks, Mrs. R. L. Mumme, Mrs. Glenn Gooding, Mrs. Albert Eckhardt, Mrs. L. W. Lehmborg, Mrs. C. R. (Doc) Collins, and Mrs. Stanley Mumme.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Jno. G. Brucks, grandmother of the bride, and Mrs. Alvin Mumme, mother of the bride.

Mrs. Collins and Darlene Brucks were in charge of the bride's book. The school building was beautifully decorated with flowers of the season, flags and a large "V", the colors of red, white and blue being used throughout.

Little Miss Rebecca Ann Krenmueller and John Thurman Brucks, dressed as nurse and sailor respectively, led the bride to her chair and handed her the many beautiful and useful gifts.

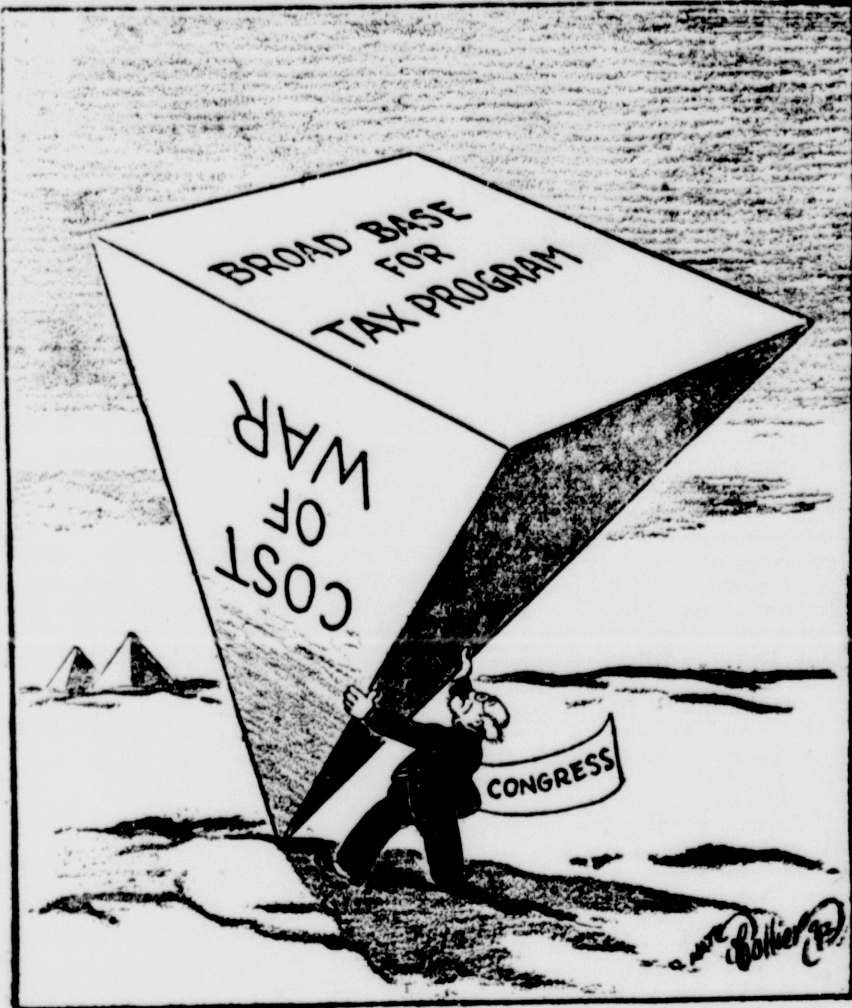

Mrs. Brite wore a frock of flower-printed white silk jersey, and a corsage of carnations.

The guests engaged in a little contest to see who could form the largest number of words from "Joycelyn Brite". In this contest Mrs. Joe Krenmueller took first prize and Mrs. Eddie Riff was second.

The hostesses served refreshments of angel food cake and home-made ice cream to the thirty-three guests who registered in the bride's book during the afternoon.

The honoree is the bride of C. B. Brite, of Pleasanton, of the U. S. Army stationed in San Antonio. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Mumme of Hondo.

These huge 60-ton heavy tanks cost $120,000, and America's automotive and locomotive plants are turning them out on a never-ending assembly line. Our army uses light tanks, weighing 14 tons, and medium tanks of 28 tons also, but we favor the medium tank over the other two.

These heavy tanks are needed for certain phases of modern warfare, and with their thick armor and heavy-gauge guns they are almost unstopable. They are considered superior in gun power, in maneuverability and in the power of their huge tractor motors to Axis tanks. Americans everywhere are helping to pay for these monsters of war through their purchase of War Bonds. Invest at least ten percent of your income in War Bonds every day.

VALDINA ORPHAN SETS NEW TRACK RECORD

NEW YORK, June 20 (UP).—The Valdina Farms' Valdina Orphan, a bay colt bred and reared deep in the heart of Texas—filed a belated bid for the 3-year-old turf crown Saturday by upsetting Greentree Stable's Kentucky Derby winner, Shut Out, in the fifty-fourth running of the $25,000 added Dwyer stakes.

Sprinting out of his stall like a greased rabbit, the rangy westerner who finished third in the Derby, stretched his speed from wire to wire and broke the Aqueduct course record for the mile and a quarter by a second and three fifths for a two-length triumph that was one of the hottest speed exhibitions this season has seen.

In front all but the first dozen yards of the way, Valdina Orphan was clocked in 2:01 2-5 with Carroll Bierman on his copper-colored back, and he wasn't giving an inch to Shut Out as he whipped his maroon silks under the wire for the biggest triumph his stable has scored in a decade of racing.

The crowd of 23,833 which had established the Greentree colt a favorite in the six-horse field wasn't exactly liberal with the applause as the Texas standard bearer romped home to a $21,150 prize. Although he was conceding ten pounds, Shut Out was whipped fairly and squarely after trailing in last place for the first half mile.

The Derby victor, away smartly, was pulled back by jockey Eddie Arcaro, sprinted through the inside of the back stretch to take command of second position, then lacked the necessary zip once he rounded the final turn and cocked his sights on the leader. Shut Out was unable to close the gap.

J. R. Roebing's Lochinvar finished third, ten lengths behind the winner while Dogpatch took fourth, Trierarch fifth and Redthorn sixth after Vagrancy was scratched. None of these four was a serious contender once Valdina Orphan streaked by the clubhouse turn and began moving out to what at one point was a six-length lead.

The Aerial Camera for use on Scout and Observation and Reconnaissance planes is essential to both the Army and Navy air forces in planning battle formations and in obtaining information on enemy fortifications and movements. They look something like a cannon, and cost about $2,100 apiece.

The aerial cameraman can plot wide territories in bold relief so that Army or Navy Intelligence can make accurate measurements of enemy territory. We need many of these cameras so necessary to the air arms of the Army and Navy. You can help buy them with your purchases of War Bonds. WARTIME RECREATION COUNCIL APPOINTED FOR HONDO

Several weeks ago, Mr. H. G. Otis of Austin, Texas, Field Recreation Representative of the Federal Security Agency, was in Hondo consulting with the directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the City officials and looking into the town's facilities for providing recreation for the Army personnel when they are off duty. Among the facilities needed is a shelter or place for providing the recreation in Hondo, either to be secured by renting a building or having one built. In this necessity it was advised to apply for a United Service Organization Club. This was done and on June 23, Robert L. Kollman, president of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce, received the following message from regional headquarters in Oklahoma City:

"Regional Staff acted to recommend USO Club for Hondo. Will inform you immediately upon National Committee's approval our recommendation. E. J. Keyes."

A working organization to supervise recreation activities and to cooperate with whatever USO provisions made, is necessary. At a recent meeting the City Council in conjunction with Chamber of Commerce directors appointed a Wartime Recreation Council for Hondo. Those appointed are:

General Chairman—Dr. Thos. B. Knopp.

Vice-Chairman—Mrs. R. J. Noonan.

Secretary-Treasurer—W. T. Crow. The following Service Committees: Facilities and Finance—R. C. Rath.

Program and Publicity—James R. Duncan.

Hostess Corps—Mrs. J. M. Finger. Church Cooperation—Pastors of all churches in Hondo.

Entertainment—Mrs. Frank X. Vance.

Outdoor Activities—H. Z. Windrow.

Home Hospitality—Mrs. O. H. Miller.

Service Center—W. F. Gaudian.

CHAMBER MANAGER RESIGNS

We are authorized to announce President R. L. Kollman of the Hondo Chamber of Commerce resigned, effective as of June 15th, his position as temporary Manager for that body. He continues as President of the Chamber, and his services in that capacity are available to the extent of his ability to the people of the town.

On the same date his secretary, Miss Hettie Nester, resigned to accept employment at the Navigation School.

The Directors of the Chamber of Commerce and the City Council have under advisement a plan to employ a paid secretary to work in conjunction with the local unit of the USO and to re-open the service office—closed when Mr. Kollman resigned—with headquarters at the REA office.

Those wishing to apply for the secretary's position may secure required information from any of the directors of the Chamber of Commerce.

NEARLY READY FOR OCCUPANCY

Work is progressing rapidly on the air field and has proceeded to the point where army personnel are beginning to move in as accommodations can be found for them. Army vehicles and khaki uniforms are already numerous in the street traffic, advance units of the several thousand expected to take over the field in the near future.

Installation of sewer facilities are being rapidly pushed and from the size of the pipes being laid it looks as if the plant might have the capacity to accommodate a modern city.

Pipes for the new gas line of the United Gas Corporation are being laid to the field and with these facilities installed occupancy of the field will not be long delayed.

MASONIC ACTIVITIES

At the called meeting of Chapter No. 350 of Royal Arch Masons, held at the lodge room Monday night, June 22nd, it was decided to carry on for the ensuing Masonic year with the officers as at present constituted, those serving in the various stations for the last Masonic year ending June 24th.

At the regular June 24th meeting of Hondo City Lodge No. 756, A. F. & A. M., Wednesday night the new officers were installed for the ensuing year. A unique feature of this official personnel is that all officers, both elective and appointive, are already Past Masters of the lodge from Earl Starnes, W. M., to Howard Short, the retiring W. M., who went from the Master's chair to the place of Junior Deacon.

THE LOW DOWN FROM HICKORY GROVE

Lots of folks can remember how sudden like Germany caved in, in 1918. Also, how the Kaiser lit out for Holland, Ludendorff for Sweden, and von Tirpitz and other Big Snorts took to cover. None of the whole gang ever suffered an iota. They all retired and lived in luxury while millions of graves dotted the hillsides and the ocean rolled other thousands upon thousands.

I was gassin' with Uncle Joe down at our bank about it. He says the folks to make the next peace are the guys who actually put the quietus on old Adolph, and his outfit. They would know what to do. Leave it to the Army and the Navy and the Leathernecks, he says, versus the Striped Trousers Boys.

Uncle Joe has quite a knack for looking around the corner. It is the banker blood in him, I reckon. Folks who imagine bankers are maybe high hat or uppity, don't know Uncle Joe. We gotta be prepared for peace—and it is time to start pondering, he says.

Yours with the low down,

JO SERRA.

BUSINESS CAN'T OPERATE AT A LOSS

It is one thing to freeze prices at reasonable and equitable levels as a bar against inflation. It is a very different thing to establish arbitrary price standards which cut deeply into the modest earnings of basic industries.

Gasoline is an example of that. Due to the loss and transfer of tankers, it is necessary to ship gas overland at a far higher transportation cost. But the government has not permitted the oil companies to raise their retail gasoline prices to compensate for this. As a result, one major oil company reports that in April alone the additional expense totaled $2,300,000. All oil companies are in much the same position.

Many similar examples can be found in the field of retail merchandising. Because the general price-freezing order made no allowance for the wide "lag" that has existed between wholesale and retail prices, stores are legally bound to sell many items at little or no profit whatsoever—and to sell some items at a loss. They are thus being directly and heavily penalized for their successful voluntary efforts to hold prices down. Economists in touch with the situation say that thousands of stores, in all retail fields, may be forced out of business unless the price order is corrected.

Prices must be controlled. But there is nothing sound in a price control policy that does not allow a store or an industry to add legitimate and unavoidable increases in operating cost to the price charged for its products. No business, no matter how big or rich, can operate without a profit. And no business which is stripped of its earning power can pay today's gigantic taxes and contribute its due share to the war effort.—Industrial News Review.

SENATE REPUDIATES ECONOMY MEASURES.

Some time ago, the House of Representatives made heavy cuts in a number of important appropriation bills. None of these bills were war measures, and the House was widely praised for its action.

Now the Senate renders the House's action futile. In each case it has increased the appropriations over the figure determined on in the House. The total increase amounts to the handsome sum of almost $300,000,000.

The average citizen, who has been told time and again that maximum economy by everyone is vital in this war period, has a right to complain. Some of the appropriations approved by the Senate seem downright fantastic. One, for instance, is to finance restriction of sugar production—in spite of the fact that the country is short of sugar, and severe rationing has been imposed. Another is to pay for administration of price limitation on coal—in spite of the fact that the OPA has complete and unquestioned authority over all prices. Still another makes financial

Beauty and Brains Leads Campaign for Soldier Candidate

This is not just a campaign smile that Mrs. Vernon Lemons Waxahachie has on her face as she sits behind the campaign manager's desk of her soldier husband working for votes to elect him lieutenant governor of Texas. Proof is that she was selected "Smile Girl" in a national photographic contest before she married into politics. These radiant features helped her selection as a "Cactus Beauty" during her student days at the University of Texas. And her beauty is more than skin deep. Along with that beauty prize she won the highest scholarship prize. She was also Phi Beta Kappa at the University. These prizes and more she won while earning her way as she was learning her way through the University. For further encouragement to opponents it may be said she is a veteran political campaigner now working with her husband she has won three previous legislative campaigns.

Her greatest joys are her two sons, age 6 and 3, but she leaves routine house chores to a nursemaid and keeps her place as political partner to her husband. So it was logical for her to carry on the race for lieutenant governor when the senator was called from reserve officer status into active army duty in April. He is stationed at Camp Hood near Austin and under Army rules governing public officials will be eligible for leave during the legislative session.

PROMINENT STOCKMAN DIES

J. W. Kothmann Sr., 79, pioneer San Antonio cattleman and last of the original commission agents on the San Antonio live stock market, died at his home, 503 Drake Ave., in that city at 3 P. M. Sunday, June 21. Mr. Kothmann founded the J. W. Kothmann & Sons Livestock Commission Agents in San Antonio in March, 1893, and has been prominent in the cattle business of South Texas ever since.

The deceased, born September 16, 1863, in Gillespie county, is a grandson of Heinrich Conrad Kothmann, who came to Texas in 1854 and settled near Beaver Creek in Gillespie county. In September, 1887, he married Miss Anna Schweers, also a member of a pioneer Southwest Texas and Medina county family.

He is survived by his wife, five daughters, Mrs. R. A. Lachlin, Mrs. J. K. Neill, Mrs. Ray Lambert Jr. and Mrs. Stanley Waugh, all of San Antonio, and Mrs. Leroy Eckhart of Tarpley; five sons, Wilkes, Roy, Lesley, Driscoll and Russell Kothmann, all of San Antonio. There are 33 grandchildren.

Services were held at the home at 4 P. M. Tuesday, June 23. The Rev. Bruce Cox, Palm Heights Methodist Church, San Antonio, officiated and burial was made in Roselawn Cemetery, that city.

CONSUMER SERVICES PLACED UNDER WAR PRICE CEILING

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP).—Consumer Services, a $5,000,000,000 industry carried on in 1,000,000 establishments throughout the country, were placed under a wartime price ceiling Tuesday night with top prices pegged at the highest levels of March. The ceiling takes effect July 1.

The order covers laundries, undertakers, garages and all sorts of repair shops. As a general rule, it covers all retail services performed on things, such as shoe-shining and piano-tuning; and it exempts services performed on, or for people, such as those of barbers, doctors and lawyers.

Household repairs done by the job come under the order. As an example, the ceiling would cover a contract for re-roofing a house if the contractor named a price for the job. If the householder bought the shingles and hired a man to lay them, however, the repair would not come under the ceiling.

For seasonal services, the order provides an adjustable price formula based on rises in the cost of living since last year. The renter of boats at a summer resort, for instance, may charge the highest price he charged in the corresponding season of 1941, plus the percentage of increase in the cost of living between then and March, 1942. The Office of Price Administration supplied a table giving these figures. Dry cleaners also might use the seasonal formula.

The order completes the over-all ceiling program begun by Price Administrator Leon Henderson April 28, with the issuance of the universal price order covering all commodities used, worn and eaten.

The regulation automatically licenses every firm in the consumer services field and makes violators, subject to revocation of their license to do business.

Much of the 16-page order listed services exempted from price control. These include professional services, those of doctors, dentists, lawyers, architects, authors or entertainers and personal services such as those of barber and beauty shops and bath and masseur establishments.

Services to commercial or industrial users, which are covered by the universal price ceiling, also are excluded. Also exempt are services of an employee to an employer and of common carriers and public utilities; the charges of newspapers, magazines, broadcasting stations, theaters insurance underwriters and outdoor advertising operators.

Washday In Wartime

And now chlorine has gone war! It is needed for explosives and airplane windshields among other things and there will be considerable less for home use.

Cheer up, the government predicts that our clothes will no doubt be much longer on the line than they were again to depend on sunshine as good washing methods as whitener.

Brushing up a my own wash methods, I find that keeping my laundry equipment in good running condition helps take the blues out of washday.

An electric washer should be drained immediately after washing in it. Rinse the tub thoroughly to remove the agitator and suds cups and rinse. Remove any suds or lint that sticks to the agitator or suction cups with a cloth. If you have an automatic type washer, clean the lint trap after each week's washing.

Remember, wringer rolls are rubber and should be treated accordingly. Release the pressure through using, then wipe them and cover them up. That saves the rubber and the spring.

Clean the bottom of your tub with a damp cloth after each use. Wait until it is cool, and be sure it is cold before putting away. Don't let the iron cord touch the hot iron and don't drop the iron once a month or so, rub the sole plate with a good grade of paraffin or beeswax and wipe it off with paper or cloth. If it is very soiled or starch has stuck to it, spray some salt on a newspaper and rub the iron over it. If it is scratched with a damp cloth when wet or if necessary use a mild abrasive or fine steel wool.

INFORMATION FROM THE WAR PRICE AND RATIONING BOARD

Instructions to those who are canning fruit:

Numerous selfish persons may desire to make application for canning sugar even though they are not rightfully entitled to same. Unless these applicants receive as much sugar as their neighbors they will become dissatisfied and cause confusion to other applicants. In order to ward off this situation it is recommended that all applications for individuals residing in urban areas be limited to 6 lbs. per person per annum for canning or enough sugar to put up 24 quarts of canned fruit, and in rural areas applicants will be limited to nine pounds per person per annum, or enough to put up 36 quarts. Should an applicant wish to do more canning than is allowed by the above amounts of sugar he may file his application and it will be duly considered by the Board in the light of the information given as well as personal knowledge of the family unit so applying. Thursdays and Fridays of each week are the designated days to make such applications.

Institutional users of sugar are again reminded that they only have until the 5th of July to make application to renew their allotment for the months of July and August.

Under general maximum price regulations, retailers in Medina County have until July 1st to file a statement of their ceiling prices with the Medina County Board.

provision for unnecessary travel by bureaucrats—in spite of the fact that all transportation facilities are needed for real war purposes, and that there is talk of rationing passenger travel in the near future.

The action of the Senate in this matter is incomprehensible. It is a prime example of official repudiation of economy, please.—Industrial News Review.

"I think the picture of an intelligent young American coolly dropping bombs on Tokyo for the reason that he wants to create a better world for Japs and Americans alike is a much more helpful picture than if he were dropping the bombs for the purpose of avenging Pearl Harbor. No American slogan ever fell so flat with its fighting men as 'Remember Pearl Harbor!' As one soldier expressed it: 'What-the-hell we got to remember about Pearl Harbor? Some Clever bastards just caught us with our pants down.' The New American Army doesn't want slogans; it wants weapons; it doesn't want to parade; it wants to fight. It doesn't want the folks back home to work themselves into a patriotic lather; it wants the folks back home to work like hell at a lathe. It wants to get on with the war, and to hell with the speeches. This new war is being fought by 'cold potatoes'. By thinking, cynical, critical men, who don't like war and who don't like stupidity. They are going to defeat America's enemies, and in the process of winning the war, they shall need to find some new faith in God and some new faith in mankind. I believe they are going to find it."—William Bradford Huie.

Bernarr MacFadden, exponent of physical culture, cites the fact that "our President was appalled when he learned that 50 per cent of our young men, in the flower of their adolescence, were rejected by our army physicians" as unfit for military duty. And he warns that "unless we can make our leaders, legislative and editorial, realize that we must obtain through encouragement of games and sports of every character, training that will bring the muscles of the body into active use—unless they can be awakened to the tragic need of urging the people everywhere to interest themselves actively every day of their lives in muscular activity in the form of work or active play, we will probably lose the war." This is terrible if true. And the deplorable part of it is that Mr. MacFadden wholly fails to place the blame where it belongs. The people have spent billions for physical education only to have our educators—with the connivance of sport lovers among the people—concentrate on a few outstanding athletes to have a winning team and neglect the very ones who stand most in need of physical development. In other words, a well-meant purpose to develop the physical stamina of the many has been prostituted to sportsmanship—and now we pay the price.

Even if we ran the Japs all back to Tokyo tomorrow and restored the rubber orchards of the East Indies to their former owners, it is possible the trees and the facilities for processing their sap into rubber have been so damaged or destroyed that our normal needs for rubber could not be supplied from that source before our present supply has been used up. In such an event our only dependence would be other sources up to now neglected or the development of a synthetic product the manufacture of which is still very much in the experimental stage. The most hopeful view of the situation portends a return to a much larger use of horse-drawn vehicles and implements. And here we are faced with a shortage of horses and mules. Would it not be the part of wisdom for us to give immediate attention to producing a larger crop of these animals on our farm? No one knows how long this war may continue, and airplanes must be tired if we all have to walk. If you have a broodmare it is a patriotic duty to raise a colt.

No doubt the cutting off of sugar imports from the Philippines has materially reduced our supply of sugar, but it seems to this paper that in the proposed sugar rationing we are howling before we are much hurt, considering that supplies from Cuba and Central America are still available to say nothing about the possibilities of our own domestic production. Of course, the area where cane sugar can be profitably produced is limited by climatic conditions, but even the proven areas are far from being utilized to their full extent. Then there is the sugar beet to be considered. We do not know what the limiting factors in their production are, but we have wondered why their production has not been more extensive, seeing that other varieties

Protect Your Vine Crop From Insect Pests

Your war garden is bound to contain several vine crops, such as melons, cucumbers, squash and pie pumpkins. If you grow these, you will need to be vigilant.

Probably the first pest you will notice is the cucumber beetle. There are two kinds: One has its back striped with alternate yellow and black bands running lengthwise of the insect. It is active both on foot and on wing. It lays yellow egg clusters in cracks in the soil near the base of the plant and the young burrow down to attack the roots of the vine plants, while the adults feed on leaves and stems above the ground. The other cucumber beetle is spotted instead of striped.

The grown beetles are smart and detect arsenical poisons on the plants, moving to feeding grounds that are clean, so about the best way to destroy them is to keep after them with a spray or dust of Black Leaf 40. Use a teaspoonful to four quarts of water, with enough soap added to make suds, for the spray. Cover the plants thoroughly and be sure you hit the beetles, or you will not kill them. A dust will also do the job—make up as described hereafter.

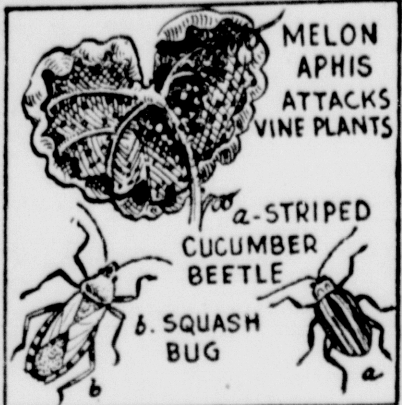

Where beetles are a problem, it is best to plant extra seed and then thin your crop after the plants get a good start.

Watch For Aphids and Spray Early Aphid is another pest to be watched. The minute you see curled, wilted or shriveled leaves on any of your vine plants, look closely inside the curl for tiny green, yellow or black insects. If you find them, you have aphids to deal with and quick action is called for. They are the most destructive aphid to be found in this country and can ruin your crops in short order. They not only attack vine plants but are found on strawberries, beets, spinach, beans, eggplant, asparagus and many other plants.

Black Leaf 40 is almost universally used to destroy aphids, using an ounce to six gallons of water and adding enough soap to make suds. Be sure to wet inside the curled parts of the leaf—you must hit the aphids with the spray.

Dusting is also effective and a nicotine dust can be made by adding three pounds of Black Leaf 40 to fifty pounds of slaked lime. Put both in a closed container, such as a tin can or keg, add a couple of dozen stones like hen eggs to stir up the dust, close the lid, and roll for fifteen minutes. Apply the dust at once, being sure every part of the plant gets a coating.

It is not easy for the amateur to make effective dust and purchase of commercially made dust is recommended. Use small garden type duster.

It will also help kill the young of the squash bug, but this also is a difficult pest. Only the young (nymphs) can be killed by spraying, and once the bugs are grown about the only way to destroy them is to crush them. This is, of course, difficult or impractical in a large planting. Early spraying, repeated often, is important, as is a careful clean-up of the garden, burning all old vines and trash in the fall.

FOR REPRESENTATIVE

In this issue of the Hondo Anvil Herald my announcement appears as candidate for Representative of this district in the forthcoming Democratic primary. Owing to the lateness of my announcement, I am sure that I cannot contact each voter personally, and I know that a person often feels that his vote wasn't wanted if it were not asked for. But it will not be so in this case and I sincerely ask your support. I have been in close contact with the public the last few years; I have heard your desires expressed and have responded to the solicitation of many friends to run for the office of representative. I appreciate the fact that you want me to represent you and my policy will be to give one and all a fair and square deal. You couldn't ask for more.

In entering this race, it is in the hope that I may be able to render:

1. Some assistance in bringing the financial affairs of our State, at least, to a balance of receipts and disbursements. When our State makes an obligation, that obligation should have a corresponding tax or income source. That is merely a business basis.

2. We have been on a spending spree from constable to president ever since the days of the depression. Those were days we should never forget, though they are long past, and a new era has begun. For the benefit of our democratic welfare, and all that we hold dear, let us forget personal greed and get down to the business of winning this war making it paramount in our thoughts by day and night. We mothers of sons in this war are pushing the dread and horror behind us and giving them with the grim realization that we may never see them again.

3. Here and now, I state to each of you that I have no corporation connections whatsoever; no individual obligations or promises regarding my tenure of office should I be elected. I only want the chance to serve the people fairly, to make good my word to you.

As for the oldtimers of our State—you will know my stand in their behalf. Could I personally give them a pension for the rest of their lives, I would deem it a privilege and honor. Could I bring their achievements to your notice, show you their gnarled, worn, old hands, one by one, that helped bring to you your present prosperity, then you would know what I mean. I mean to work in their behalf, to give them the honor and glory that belongs to them, as long as it is in my power to do so.

NUTRITION BEGINS ON FARM—First off-the-press poster for farmers issued in support of the nation's wartime food conservation efforts by the National Cream Quality Program, Chicago, is scrutinized by Jane Veronica Darger and J. C. Fridenberg, secretary of the group. The poster reads, "SAVE FOOD—We Are at War. Good Cream is Food Saved—Poor Cream is Food Wasted."

It was my love for the pioneer and the later ones who are also oldtimers, that led me to work tirelessly day and night to write their stories. I am not through—only begun! Your letters and words of praise sustained me and gave me new courage. You know already that I came from two of the first families in this part of Texas. My mother was a Davenport and though their records have not been given much publicity, they have been in all the fights of our country from the Revolutionary War to the present World War. Likewise the Fenleys, whose records I also have. Here in Texas the Fenleys and Davenports fought side by side ridding the country of Indians before and after they fought in the Civil War, because they came to Uvalde county in 1852. And I notice on the records that a great, great uncle of mine, Jas. B. Davenport, was Uvalde county's first sheriff.

Today, I too, have a son in the U. S. service, like many of you. God grant that he may acquire himself honorably in his duties and come home with your boys, when the last of the enemy has been crushed.

It will always be a pleasure to me to talk with anyone or receive a letter from any of you telling me your wishes and your ideas of government. I invite it and appreciate your interest, for it is high time that all Americans were giving serious thought to our State affairs. Consider me at all times your obedient servant, and when you go to the polls to vote July 25, remember that your choice of representative is the one you expect to keep the promises made to you. Then ask yourself: Will my candidate do that?

FLORENCE FENLEY.

DESERT SAND STORM

(Apologies to Poe)

Oh, you mad rebellious spirit
With your many-fingered rapping.
With your whimpering and tapping
At my windows and my door,
Curses on your mournful wailing
Like a demon that is ailing,
You shall never find me quailing
Any more.

Once, I feared you as a master
With a spell that none could banish,
You could make my courage vanish
With your fierce and awful roar,
Now I know you are a bluffer,
Just a vane and lying puffer
And you cannot make me suffer
As before.

Fill my home with all your rubbish,
Search for every crack within it,
Make it quiver every minute
With your damnable uproar,
I'll be sleeping, never stopping,
Though the very walls be dropping,
But tomorrow I'll be mopping
Up the floor.

—CECILE BONHAM.

DESIRE AND ATTAINMENT

Because a man starts his career,
And wishes great success,
Does not assure him lucious plums,
Nor get his wife a dress.

He needs to run and ever strive
To gain a worthier end.
His conscience, too, pulls at his ear,
And hints a better trend.

—WILLIAM HENRY KLOSE.

PILLARS OF DEMOCRACY

By Rev. William C. Kernan

THE FIRST PILLAR OF DEMOCRACY IS THE TEN COMMANDMENTS which teach us our duty toward God and our duty toward neighbors. They are all summed up in the later commandment of love God with all one's heart and mind and soul and strength, and love one's neighbor as one's self. Above everything else the founders of America knew what some of our rights for which we stand are stowed upon ALL men by the Creator; they are ALL men by the Creator men by their men.

THE SECOND PILLAR OF DEMOCRACY IS THE DECLARATION OF INDEPENDENCE. Therein we find the American conviction that all men are created equal; that they are "endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." We have a duty to deal justly toward our neighbors because they are men like ourselves, with the same rights and the same desires for life and happiness.

THE THIRD PILLAR OF DEMOCRACY IS THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES. It was written to make real for Americans the principles in defense of which the Declaration of Independence had been written and for which the Revolutionary War had been fought. And it did. The Constitution provides for elected representative government. Not government by CLASS, not government by RACE, but government by men whom all the people choose.

THE FOURTH PILLAR OF DEMOCRACY IS THE BILL OF RIGHTS. Comprising the first ten amendments to the Constitution, it provides, in general, for the safeguarding of personal rights and liberties such as: freedom of speech, press, assembly and religion.

THE FIFTH PILLAR OF DEMOCRACY IS LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG ADDRESS. It is of utmost importance because it sums up all the time what we mean by democracy: "government of the people, by the people and for the people." It is the final answer to all systems of government. It is the finest statement of the method of popular government that we have. It states what is true of America; that the nation which our fathers brought forth upon this continent was "conceived in liberty and dedicated to the proposition that ALL men are created equal." It calls upon Americans to rededicate themselves in every generation to meet NEW problems with the OLD ideals of democracy.

Editorial Note: And the "mud-all" of all these "pillars" is an intelligent public opinion with the standing and the will to maintain stability and permanency of the PILLARS.—Editor.

THE EAGLE AND THE STORM

The eagle is a noble bird
He commands our love and admiration

But for a loving household pet
The stork's the favorite of the nation

Domestic in his tastes is he
And never leaves us for vacation
